This report supports the goals for the state, highlights existing programs and services and demonstrates our Department’s unified vision of building stronger families for a stronger Georgia.
Seventeen Georgia community organizations were selected to work with the DFCS State of Hope initiative, supporting their ongoing work to serve Georgia families with technical assistance and funding.

Georgia’s Division of Aging Services (DAS) announced that a $4.6 million grant from the Administration for Community Living would be used to serve home-delivered meals to vulnerable seniors. This funding allowed for DAS to serve adults in need of additional assistance as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

We teamed up with the Department of Public Health and local Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) to help Georgia’s seniors get vaccinated against COVID-19. AAAs assisted with transportation for home-bound seniors and worked with DPH’s public health districts to plan vaccination events in safe environments.

Georgia Parent Advisory Council member Erin Thomas received the 2021 National Reunification Hero Award from the American Bar Association. After being incarcerated, Erin reunified with her son in 2020, and works as a mentor and advocate for those trying to do the same.

Georgia’s Child Support Services mobile app, DCSS On the Go, was recognized at the Center for Digital Government’s 4th annual Government Experience Awards. Launched in Sep. 2016, this free app was instrumental in improving how Georgia families connect with DCSS services on their mobile devices.

With the support of DHS employees, we raised $8,560 for the Georgia State Charitable Contributions Program, well beyond our initial goal of $6,000!

Department of Human Services STATE CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS PROGRAM

Be a Superhero, Give!

Commemorating Older Americans Month, the River Valley Area Agency on Aging hosted a drive thru event to share information from more than 20 vendors with local seniors.
The Georgia Department of Human Services (DHS) serves more than 2 million Georgians and employs approximately 8,912 people. With an annual budget of $1.89 billion, DHS delivers a wide range of services that protect and enhance the lives of Georgia’s most vulnerable residents.

DHS comprises three divisions — the Division of Aging Services (DAS), the Division of Child Support Services (DCSS) and the Division of Family & Children Services (DFCS).

Through each of its programs and services, the Georgia DHS strives to fulfill its vision of creating Stronger Families for a Stronger Georgia.
The Department’s Residential Child Care Licensing (RCCL) unit seeks to protect children in residential care by licensing and providing oversight for a variety of child care facilities to ensure that facilities have the resources to provide for children in their care and keep them safe.

Through its Tracking Residential Applications, Incidents and Licenses System (TRAILS), RCCL also keeps stakeholders and the public informed of the quality of residential child care programs. Facilities requiring a license from RCCL include Child Caring Institutions, Child Placing Agencies, Outdoor Child Caring Programs, Children’s Transition Care Centers and Maternity Homes. Child Caring Institutions and Child Placing Agencies make up the majority of state licenses.

Child Caring Institutions (CCIs) are commonly referred to as group homes and include any institution, society, agency or facility that provides full-time care for six or more children through 18 years of age outside of their own homes. Child Placing Agencies (CPAs) are any institution, society, agency or facility which places children in foster homes for temporary care or in prospective adoptive homes for adoption. Outdoor Child Caring Programs (OCCPs) are CCIs that provide outdoor activities designed to improve the emotional and behavioral well-being of children in a wilderness or camp environment. Maternity Homes (MHs) are any place that receives, treats or cares for, within a six-month period, more than one pregnant woman whose child is born out of wedlock.

By the Numbers
Residential Child Care Licensing

- 336 facilities were regulated by RCCL in SFY 2021
- 5 new licenses were approved for child caring institutions
- 1 new maternity home received licensure
- 4 new licenses were approved for child placing agencies
- Top 6 Reasons Facilities Received Citations in SFY 2021
  1. Insufficient development, implementation and/or compliance with policies and procedures
  2. Insufficient documentation of the involvement of the child’s guardian in the service plan
  3. Insufficient documentation of resident’s general dental examination
  4. Incomplete service plans
  5. Insufficient documentation of additional staff training in child care issues
  6. Insufficient documentation to support adequate supervision of a child in care

RCCL Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

The Department’s Residential Child Care Licensing (RCCL) unit has continued to operate during the COVID-19 pandemic with safeguards in place. In Aug. 2020, RCCL surveyors resumed limited on-site inspections for the following situations:
- Agency or facility had a temporary license
- Averse action within past 12 months
- Pending investigations or other open survey concerns
- Agency or facility did not have a contract with DFCS and did not have an on-site inspection in 2020
- Any other RCCL concerns

Abbreviated, off-site inspections have been conducted for other types of inspections. These off-site inspections have been conducted via Microsoft Teams or by other virtual means. The determination to conduct an on-site or off-site inspection has been determined on a case-by-case basis depending on the allegations against the agency or facility. During this time, when an on-site inspection was required, RCCL confirmed with the licensed provider that the were no active cases of COVID-19 at the facility prior to the inspection. RCCL staff put in place additional safeguards, like surveyors limiting their time spent on-site, surveyors wearing personal protective equipment and RCCL limiting the number of RCCL and provider staff involved in the inspection.
The Division of Aging Services (DAS) assists older individuals, at-risk adults, persons with disabilities, their families and caregivers to achieve safe, healthy, independent and self-reliant lives. The Division works with its partners around the state to keep people in their homes and communities for as long as they desire, enabling them to function independently and avoid or delay placement in a long-term care facility.

DAS is also responsible for safeguarding vulnerable adults from abuse, neglect and exploitation. The Division investigates claims of abuse in the community setting (The Department of Community Health investigates claims of abuse in care facilities). DAS also provides services to advocate for adults under guardianship.

Anyone seeking resources to support an older adult or individual living with a disability can call the ADRC’s toll-free number at 866-552-4464 to speak with a counselor.

Based on the individual’s needs, counselors provide unbiased information on resources and services that will support the individual and allow him/her to live in the setting of their choosing.

The toll-free number can also connect callers to the GeorgiaCares program, which provides free and unbiased counseling on Medicare, Medicaid and other related health insurance. For more information, please visit mygeorgiacares.org

Aging and Disability Resource Connection
ADRC provides free, unbiased counseling on resources and services to 77,929 customers

ADRC is a one-stop shop or “no wrong door” entry point staffed with counselors who help older adults and adults with disabilities navigate life changes and find resources to assist them with living more self-sufficient lives. The majority of these services are provided through the statewide network of Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs).

Area Agencies on Aging
Through contracts with the 12 AAAs, the Division of Aging Services supports older adults, adults living with a disability and their caregivers through a variety of home and community-based services and other supportive services. AAAs are located across the state and support individuals and caregivers in every county. While specific services vary by region, the core programs in each AAA region are:

Personal Care Assistance
Hands-on assistance with bathing, dressing and similar daily living activities

Transportation Services
Provides rides to and from senior centers, medical and health-related appointments and quality of life trips (such as shopping and activities to remain engaged in the community)

Assistive Technology
Tools that can help individuals perform everyday tasks, allowing them to remain in their own home or community setting of their choosing and/or avoid long-term residential care

Home-Delivered Meals
Nutritious meals provided to qualified individuals in their homes

Congregate Meals
Nutritious weekday lunches provided to older adults in a group setting

Chronic Disease Self-Management
Services that teach individuals with recurring conditions and illnesses how to monitor and care for themselves in a way that maximizes their quality of life

Respite Care
Services that offer a brief period of rest for family caregivers, either in the home or on a short-term basis in institutional settings

Elderly Legal Assistance Program
Legal information and representation on elder law matters, such as healthcare and long-term care; housing; protection or recovery from abuse, neglect and/or exploitation; public benefits and income security; and estate planning

Money Follows the Person and Nursing Home Transitions programs
Programs that assist individuals who reside in long-term in-patient facilities with relocating back into a community setting of their choosing, when desired. Money Follows the Person is a federally funded program and Nursing Home Transitions is funded by the state.

One client in the Atlanta region was able to safely maintain his healthcare activities and avoid feelings of self-isolation due to a computer tablet he received through the ADRC. Prior to receiving the tablet, he was missing out on his PTSD/depression individual and men’s support group therapy sessions due to COVID-19 as the sessions were forced to go virtual. The tablet provided a much needed life line to keep him connected to necessary services and has changed his life for the better. He was able to maintain his mental health and keep in touch with the outside world while prioritizing his health during the pandemic.

He was so grateful for the tablet and help he received that he wrote a letter of appreciation. In the letter he said, “Thank you for your concerns, support and just being there for me.” The ability to keep clients connected to their healthcare professionals and avoid self-isolation during the COVID-19 pandemic has been a great achievement for the ADRC.

In SFY 2021, ADRC provided 77,979 customers and family members free, unbiased counseling on resources and services specific to their needs.
Georgia Memory Net is a statewide program, developed in partnership with Emory University, to expand access to early and accurate diagnosis of Alzheimer’s disease and other dementias and to support those living with dementia, including caregivers.

Additionally, GMN trains physicians to properly screen for the disease and collect data in a manner that will allow the state to better support those living with dementia. Cognitive Neurology and Neuropsychology Leads based in Emory’s Cognitive Neurology Program train and continuously work with MACs to ensure the MAC providers have the tools and training they need to effectively and accurately diagnose Alzheimer’s Disease and Related Dementias using evidence-based, clinically proven tools.

Currently, five Memory Assessment Clinics (MACs) are in operation across the state. The MACs are located at Augusta University in Augusta, Grady Health in Atlanta, Navicent Health in Macon, Piedmont Columbus Regional in Columbus and Phoebe Putney Health in Albany.

In SFY 2021:

- MACs increased their patient volumes. The clinics saw a total of 503 unique patients, conducted 960 total visits and 261 clients were referred to AAAs.
- Expanded partnerships include collaboration with DPH for B-SEEN project and continued work with GA GEAR, Georgia's only Geriatric Workforce Enhancement Program funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration.
- CARES funds used to purchase 25 iPads provided an opportunity to partner with organizations and combine resources to provide expanded telehealth access to patients across the state. Devices will be deployed for broader telehealth use in upcoming fiscal year.
- GMN anywhere 2021 featured several great sessions for the network. In addition to a timely session on the newly FDA Approved Alzheimer’s drug, Aducanumab, and a Georgia General Assembly Roundtable, the series featured several guest speakers. The keynote speaker was Dr. Bradley Boeve, MD of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN, who shared his expertise in Lewy Body Dementia, a session that attracted attendees from as far as Canada.
- GMN Portal enhancements have resulted in improved productivity for MAC staff and enhanced data integrity in the GMN repository.

DHS expands Dementia Friends program across library and education sectors

During COVID, Dementia Friends Champions continued to use virtual means to bring information sessions to consumers statewide. Specifically, Champions focused on engaging attendees with small group sizes and promotion of active discussions. Champions also worked to encourage Dementia Friends to submit the action items they tend to employ to make their communities more dementia-friendly.

To aid with the process, DAS conducted refresher trainings with Champions, emphasizing the importance of both hosting two sessions per year and also reporting the number of attendees at the session. DHS and the GARD Dementia Friendly Strategy Group are working together to build relationships with libraries and the education sector.

The goal for this initiative is to build audiences for Dementia Friends within key community partners, ultimately making more Dementia Friends to make Georgia more dementia-friendly.

GMN

- $26,188: is the amount of money Medicare spends annually per person diagnosed with dementia
- 190,000: residents are estimated to be living with Alzheimer's in Georgia by 2025

Adults who are 55 or older, unemployed and looking to re-enter the workforce may qualify for the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP). Services are available in the majority of Georgia’s 159 counties. SCSEP is a program administered by the U.S. Department of Labor that serves low-income persons who have a family income of no more than 125% of the federal poverty level and have poor employment prospects. Eligible individuals are placed in part-time community service positions with a goal of transitioning to unsubsidized employment. The program serves people whose yearly income meets the U.S. Department of Labor guidelines.

Participants’ training wages contribute to the local economy and reduce their dependence on public benefits programs. Participants provided 44,478 hours of community service including 19,003 hours of service to organizations that serve older adults. Thirty percent were individuals with disabilities. Twenty-three percent of participants were homeless or at risk of homelessness.

Did You Know?

SCSEP

Adults who are at least 55, unemployed and have a family income of no more than 125% of the federal poverty level may qualify for subsidized employment opportunities. For a family of two, that would equate to an annual income of no more than $21,138.

Kinship Care

Support groups, other resources provide stability, foundation for grandparents raising grandchildren

Through kinship support groups, DAS provides education and peer support for grandparents and relative caregivers raising children by focusing on positive parenting, effective discipline and healthy relationships. Other kinship care services include provision of material aid such as school supplies, respite through summer camps and case management for grandfamilies of children with disabilities.

MS. WG

SCSEP program participant Ms. WG successfully secured a position with the Athens Community Council on Aging. When she was searching for a job, she became a participant in SCSEP. She received training and education at Mercy Care Rome which enabled her to qualify for the SCSEP coordinator position with the Athens Community Council on Aging. She was very grateful for the job opportunity and relocated from Rome to Athens for the position.

She was very happy for the transition and enjoys her new city and job. This opportunity gave Ms. WG a source of interaction and training so she could guide other people in need. Since becoming a participant in the SCSEP program, she realized her passion for helping seniors. Her new role has been very fulfilling and she enjoys finding opportunities for other seniors who are in the same position she was in.

“My life before SCSEP was like a puzzle with one missing piece,” Ms. WG said. “SCSEP was the missing piece.”

SCSEP

- 184 people participated in SCSEP in SFY 2020
- 44,478 hours of community service were provided by participants
- 159 participants provided community service
- 30% of participants were individuals with disabilities
- 23% of SCSEP participants were homeless or at risk of homelessness
- 19 participants got a full-time job

Georgia Fund for Children & Elderly

Increase in 2020 income tax donations provides home-delivered meals and transportation for seniors

The Georgia Department of Human Services Division of Aging Services co-administers the Georgia Fund for Children & Elderly with the Department of Public Health’s Maternal and Child Health Program Division. The Division of Aging Services receives 50% of the fund’s donations each year, and those donations are distributed to Area Agencies on Aging for home-delivered meals and senior transportation. The remaining 50% is allotted to the Department of Public Health to provide grants for programs that serve children and youth with special needs. Income tax check-off donations received between calendar years/income tax years 2019 and 2021 are shown below.

Adult Protective Services

Adult Protective Services (APS) investigates reports of abuse, neglect and exploitation of older persons or adults with disabilities who do not reside in long-term care facilities. Abuse involves physically harming or distressing an at-risk adult or depriving an individual of his/her basic needs, such as not providing necessary medications or withholding food.

APS case managers work with victims of abuse, neglect or exploitation to employ the least restrictive intervention for adults who are in need of support and have the capacity to engage in decisions about their well-being.

To report abuse of an older adult or a person with a disability in the community:
• Call 1-866-552-4464 or visit aging.ga.gov.

To report abuse of an older adult or a person with a disability in long-term care facilities:
• Call the Department of Community Health at 404-657-5700. In case of emergency, call 911.

APS INVESTIGATOR, DAKOTA WRIGHT RECEIVED THE SPIRIT OF NAPSA AWARD

This award is given to a frontline Adult Protective Services (APS) staff person in recognition of their significant contribution to the growth and development of the APS program in their community, as well as to the field of abuse intervention. The nominee does not have to be a National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA) member to be nominated. Dakota Wright went above and beyond on a case that held many challenges. Wright holds a bachelor’s degree in psychology from Tennessee Temple University and has been with the State of Georgia for four years. She is an APS investigator from the Northwest Georgia APS team. She always offers to assist her colleagues and has been doing outstanding work building bridges with law enforcement and reporters in her area. She recently had a case with a client who was cognitively impaired and had been abused and abandoned by their caregiver. The client was alone and did not remember to eat and was unable to meet their own needs. Wright connected with local law enforcement to ensure the client received the help they needed.

What is NAPSA?

NAPSA is a national non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization with members in all 50 states. Formed in 1989, the goal of NAPSA is to provide APS programs a forum for sharing information, solving problems and improving the quality of services for victims of elder and vulnerable adult mistreatment. Its mission is to strengthen the capacity of APS at the national, state and local levels to effectively and efficiently recognize, report and respond to the needs of elders and/or adults with disabilities who are the victims of abuse, neglect or exploitation and to prevent such abuse whenever possible.

Public Guardianship
39 case managers support 1,179 adults

DHS can be appointed as guardian of last resort for Georgians who have been deemed by a probate court to be incapable of making or communicating decisions about their health or safety and for whom no appropriate family or friends have been located to assist. On behalf of DHS, assisting those individuals under DHS guardianship is handled by the staff of the Public Guardianship Office (PGO) within DAS.

PGO case managers advocate for persons under guardianship, act as surrogate decision-makers and coordinate and monitor all services needed for the support, care, education, health and welfare of guardianship clients.

Forensic Special Initiatives Unit
FSIU trains 305 professionals on identifying and reporting abuse, neglect and exploitation

The Forensic Special Initiatives Unit (FSIU) aids the Division and other local, state and federal partners in their efforts to protect Georgia’s at-risk adults from abuse, neglect and exploitation.

During calendar year 2021, FSIU became a detached unit housed within the Georgia Bureau of Investigation. An MOU between DHS and the GBI combined the expertise of FSIU with the primary state law enforcement agency in Georgia.

The unit provides technical assistance and case consultations and offers a two-day At-Risk Crime Tactics (ACT) certification course. The course trains professionals to identify and investigate cases of abuse, neglect and exploitation. The ACT training is open to primary and secondary responders including:

- Law enforcement
- Judges and prosecutors
- Health care providers and medical services personnel
- Employees of financial institutions
- Regulatory/social/victim service workers
- Other professionals who respond to the abuse, neglect and exploitation of at-risk adults

The Division of Child Support Services (DCSS) works to increase the consistency of financial support children receive from parents who do not have primary custody.

DCSS’ services include locating parents; establishing paternity; establishing, monitoring and enforcing fair support orders; increasing health care coverage for children; and removing barriers to payment. In its efforts to build stronger families, DCSS assists noncustodial parents in finding employment that pays above minimum wage by connecting parents who have behavioral or mental health issues with the resources to overcome or manage those issues so they can be positively involved in their children’s lives.

DCSS helps locate parents who owe child support, assists in determining paternity, collects payments and provides resources to parents to ensure Georgia’s children receive financial and medical support from both parents.
The Division of Child Support Services (DCSS) helps locate parents who owe child support, assists in determining paternity, collects payments and provides resources to parents to ensure Georgia’s children receive financial and medical support from both parents. Children who receive support from both parents are more likely to experience financial and emotional stability, and have a greater chance at success in adulthood.

VICKY WHIPPLE

Vicky Whipple started with the Division of Child Support Services in Aug. 2000 and serves as an administrative assistant for Region 4. In her role, she works closely with the assistant deputy directors and provides support to the Training and Staff Development Team. She is instrumental in training new administrative assistants as they come on board and has been a great asset to the Division. In addition to performing her job at an exemplary level, Whipple demonstrates an extraordinary commitment to DCSS. She has an eagerness to learn and seeks answers when she is not clear on expectations. She takes it upon herself to provide exceptional support and service and uses her years of knowledge to assist others.

Whipple is willing to step up to offer her assistance when units are short-staffed. She discerns others’ needs and moves quickly and efficiently to provide resolutions to all concerns that arise. She offers recommendations and goes above and beyond to make sure all problems are addressed and resolved immediately. She has been especially supportive of the business operations unit’s success. Whipple took on several additional job duties when assisting business operations, including entering a significant amount of requisitions for payment processing, processing invoices for timely vendor payment, creating reports for budget impact and assisting with training and staff development for the unit and region Administrative Operations Coordinators. Whipple has been a great example of effective team work and has truly made a profound impact throughout her years of service. And for these reasons she was selected as the FY20 DCSS Hero of the Year!

Fatherhood Program
1,135 participants enrolled in GED and short-term training job programs

Noncustodial parents who are having difficulty paying child support may receive services that can help them achieve self-sufficiency and provide for their children to avoid contempt action on their support order. The Fatherhood program offers assistance in accessing training and employment opportunities. It also encourages parents to increase emotional, parental and financial involvement in the lives of their children. Some of the services included are below, and more information can be found on the DCSS website.

- Driver’s license reinstatement (for licenses suspended or pending suspension for non-payment of child support)
- Virtual meetings
- Online skills assessment
- Job placement
- Federal bonding letter
- Access and visitation services

FATHERHOOD PROGRAM

Luke was hesitant to join the Fatherhood program, because he did not understand the benefits of participating in the program. However, after attending the orientation, he was inspired to search for work immediately despite not having a valid license. Luke worked with Fatherhood Agent Radney and his family to find ways to overcome his transportation barrier. As a result, he started working as a self-employed contractor. This new role brought Luke a better salary and allowed him to pay more toward his child support obligation. His new job also had better hours and granted him more time to spend with his family.

The effects of Luke’s positive experience with Fatherhood continued even after he successfully completed the program in July 2021. Due to the increase in current support paid during his enrollment, the local office was able to continue driver’s license assistance by placing an override on his driver’s license suspension in Aug. 2021. Luke’s story is one of complete success. He began working soon after joining Fatherhood, and despite his circumstances, he managed to overcome transportation barriers, start and maintain his own business and change the course of his future and his family’s future.
DCSS recognizes that incarceration for nonpayment of support can be counterproductive as it prevents parents from accessing employment that ultimately results in falling further behind on court-ordered child support. In 2009, DCSS and the superior court judges established Georgia’s first Parental Accountability Court (PAC). At the end of SFY 2021, 43 judicial circuits were offering the program as an alternative to incarceration. The program assists chronic nonpayers of child support with meeting their financial obligations through judicial oversight, parent accountability, employment and education. Services offered through the PAC program include:

- Substance abuse treatment
- Job assistance and placement
- Short-term training
- Coaching and mentoring
- Educational services
- Employment training

PARENTAL ACCOUNTABILITY COURT PROGRAM

In the spring of 2020, Angelia was referred to the Parental Accountability Court by her agent for not making payments toward her child support obligation. She was eager to enroll in the program and get back on track with her payments. Once enrolled, Angelia immediately started looking for employment. She realized that working outside was something she enjoyed, so she decided to work for herself in landscaping. However, her employment choice meant that she would be responsible for sending in her own payments. This initially caused concern because her last payment prior to entering the PAC program in 2020 was made in 2014. However, once she started working for herself and participating in the PAC program, she diligently made her child support payments every month. Angelia was goal-oriented in all aspects of her life and determined to take care of her support obligation from the beginning.

Ultimately, she was able to pay off her case in 2021 and graduate from the PAC program in Barrow County. Angelia is a perfect example of how the PAC program can get parents back on track.

PAC Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

COVID-19 TAKES TOLL ON PAC ENROLLMENT

Participation in the PAC program was hindered some due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Many court systems across the state closed, affecting the Division’s ability to file contempt notices and other court procedures necessary for this program. It was also difficult to navigate situations in which participants had little to no access to electronic devices or Internet service to attend court virtually or provide electronic signatures.

Additionally, community resources that are typically available to help support this program faced closures and hardships as well. For these reasons, the PAC program saw a decrease in participation and performance this year.
The Division of Family & Children Services (DFCS) investigates reports of child abuse and neglect; finds foster and adoptive homes for abused and neglected children; determines eligibility for and administers the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Medicaid and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) programs; helps out-of-work parents get back on their feet; and provides numerous support services and innovative programs to help families in need.

DFCS implemented strategies that reduced the child foster care population (<18 years old) by more than 8.95 percent, decreasing from 11,919 to 10,852, and that resulted in 1,067 finalized adoptions (as of June 30, 2021).

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly referred to as the Food Stamp Program, is a federally funded program that helps low-income families pay for the cost of food. The SNAP program also provides opportunities to improve their economic standing with job skills training and other support.

SNAP Works

The SNAP Employment and Training Program, also known as SNAP Works, is a voluntary workforce development program designed to help SNAP recipients who are unemployed or underemployed with job placement assistance, thereby reducing and/or eliminating their dependency on SNAP. SNAP Works provides SNAP recipients with opportunities to gain skills, training and experience that will improve their ability to attain employment. The program offers supervised job search, job skills training, GED, vocational training for specific jobs and work experience through partnerships with community-based organizations and educational institutions. SNAP Works participants include Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWD), single parents, families, refugees, senior citizens and some individuals with disabilities. SNAP Works participants also receive work support services, like transportation and child care.

P-SNAP and SNAP Issuances Increase Since Start of COVID-19 Pandemic

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Division has provided both Pandemic Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (P-SNAP) emergency allotments and regular SNAP allotments to ensure that SNAP households receive the food assistance they need to meet their nutritional needs.

According to SFY21 data, there were 1.74 million SNAP customers receiving $348 million in benefits each month, with the average family issued a $470 allotment. These distributions included SNAP, P-SNAP and emergency allotments to ensure that SNAP households receive the food assistance they need to meet their nutritional needs.

Renata Felton enrolled in the SNAP Employment and Training (E&T) program on Nov. 1, 2019, through Central Georgia Technical College in Macon. She had served as a Certified Nursing Assistant in home health care prior to enrolling in the SNAP E&T program, and notified the program that her long-term professional goal was to obtain a full-time position as a pharmacy technician.

“I had to endure a lot of sleepless nights and early mornings. I had to remember drugs and classifications so much until I would dream about them. I had good and bad days. I had a time in my life where I thought I wasn’t going to be able to finish the program, but God sent me an angel,” said Felton. “I met Ms. Holmes [from Career Connections] during a Campus Life event and my life changed for the better,” she continued. Felton said the program is very helpful and her mentor, Ms. Holmes, encouraged her and constantly checked in on her education and career goals. The program also helped Felton with uniforms, monetary needs and guidance. Since enrolling in the program, Felton has maintained a 3.0 GPA and communicates regularly with her instructors and the SNAP E&T Project Manager. She successfully completed the required credits for the program in July 2020 and obtained a Pharmacy Technology diploma.

SNAP Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

In response to the coronavirus pandemic, SNAP received guidance from the United States Department of Agriculture, Food and Nutrition Service, and policy waivers to help Georgia families meet their food and nutritional needs during the public health emergency. With these policy waivers, the SNAP program was able to:

- Extend certification periods for an additional six months to households through June 2021.
- Exempt ABAWDs from work requirements from July 1, 2020, through June 30, 2022.
- Issue P-SNAP and emergency allotments to SNAP households to bring the allotment up to the maximum benefit amount for each household size.
- SNAP and emergency allotments will continue to be issued based on the Governor’s approval of the Emergency Declaration.

The Georgia Senior SNAP program is an elderly simplified application project designed to make it easier for seniors to receive food stamp benefits.

Adults who receive Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) are required to participate in approved work activities for a minimum of 30 hours each week. If the household has a child under age 6, the weekly minimum requirement is 20 hours. Children and families exhibiting the greatest need can benefit from the TANF cash assistance program if their parents participate in qualified work activities. This program is also available to children in the care of relatives. Adults who receive benefits on behalf of a relative child (called a “child-only case”) are not subject to work requirements. Activities that meet TANF work requirements include:

Unsubsidized Employment
Full or part-time employment

Work Experience
A work activity performed in return for public assistance. This experience provides an individual with the opportunity to acquire the general skills, knowledge and work habits necessary to obtain and retain employment

On-The-Job Training
Training given to a paid employee that provides knowledge and skills essential to the performance of the job

Community Service
Structured programs and activities for the direct benefit of the community. These programs are limited to projects that serve a useful community purpose in fields such as health, social services, environmental protection, education, urban and rural redevelopment, recreation, public facilities, public safety and/or child care

Job Search and Job Preparedness Assistance
Act of seeking or obtaining employment, or preparation to seek employment, by undergoing life skills training, substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment or other rehabilitation activities. Treatment or therapy must be deemed necessary by a qualified medical, substance abuse or mental health professional

Vocational Training
Organized educational programs directly related to employment in current or emerging occupations. This activity is countable for up to 12 months

Job Skills Training Directly Related to Employment
Training or education required for employment to advance or adapt to the changing demands of the workplace

TANF Response to COVID-19 Pandemic
COVID-19 procedures for the TANF program that began in SFY 2020 remained in place during SFY 2021. This included temporarily waived work requirements, a reduction in the forms requiring client signature (to reduce the need for hard paperwork circulation) and extended renewal periods. In SFY 2021, work-eligible individuals were encouraged to participate in work activities and support services continued to be paid. Many individuals benefited by choosing job search as a supported activity. Those participants who found full-time employment qualified for work support payments of $200 per month for up to 12 months, as well as continued services. State law requires a TANF lifetime limit of 48 months, however, Georgia granted good cause extensions to ensure that families’ assistance remained in place when they needed it the most.

TANF policy was also adapted to mirror the evolving policies for SNAP and Medical Assistance. Having similar policies between programs streamlines eligibility practices for staff and reduces the need to provide non-essential verification, saving time and energy for our families requesting assistance.
The Medicaid and PeachCare for Kids® programs provide a safety net for children who may not otherwise have access to health care.

Family Medicaid
Low-income families with children under age 19 may qualify for Family Medicaid. These families may qualify at various income levels depending on family size and income. Families who qualify are entitled to the full range of Medicaid covered services including doctors’ visits, health checkups, immunizations, dental and vision care.

Aged, Blind and Disabled Medicaid Program
The Aged, Blind and Disabled (ABD) Medicaid Program in Georgia serves individuals who are age 65 and older, individuals who are legally blind or individuals who are disabled, as defined by the Social Security Act. There are 19 different coverage categories, known as Classes of Assistance (COA), for the ABD population. An individual’s living arrangement, income, marital status and prior Medicaid eligibility, among other factors, determine the most appropriate COA.

In SFY 2021, 1,274,488 is the average number of children who received Medicaid (excluding PeachCare) monthly.

Medical Assistance Response to COVID-19 Pandemic
COVID-19 pandemic policy waivers issued by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services in SFY 2020 continued in SFY 2021. The Georgia Department of Community Health communicated those rules to DFCS for continued implementation for all Medicaid and PeachCare for Kids® cases. The Medicaid and PeachCare for Kids® policy waivers included the following:

- Using self-attestation and client statements as acceptable verification that would normally require documents from a third party.
- Allowance to exceed timeliness standards for applications and renewals.
- Extending the period of eligibility renewal end dates. Renewals with due dates in the months of July 2020 through June 2021 were extended by six months.
- Allowing certain documents to be e-mailed as secure attachments rather than being faxed.
- Not closing or allowing benefit coverage reductions for any active Medicaid or PeachCare for Kids® cases, except for the reasons of death, moving out-of-state, voluntary closure, foster care discharge or entry, being invalidly enrolled, incarceration and financial eligibility for Supplemental Security Income.
- Excluding pandemic stimulus payments, pandemic unemployment compensation and Advance Child Tax Credit payments from budget calculations.
- Suspending PeachCare for Kids® premiums.
The Georgia Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is a federally funded program that helps low-income Georgians with home energy bills to reduce the risk of health and safety issues that occur as a result of disconnection.

Qualified individuals may be able to receive energy bill payment assistance, energy crisis assistance, weatherization and energy-related minor home repairs. Applications are offered first to homebound individuals, individuals age 65 and over and those with life-threatening circumstances.

DFCS Protective Services

DFCS continues child protection measures despite pandemic challenges

In SFY 2021, Child Welfare programs continued to be affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, but all program operations continued. Technology was leveraged to provide virtual services whenever possible, and when concerns about a child’s safety required face-to-face contact, pandemic health and safety measures were followed.

Child Protective Services (CPS) staff investigate reports of child abuse and neglect and work with caregivers, law enforcement and judicial partners to ensure the safety of Georgia’s most vulnerable children. When an allegation of child abuse or neglect is confirmed, caseworkers partner with families and community organizations to address issues that affect child safety in the home. In most cases, DFCS can work with families to address the safety concern and stabilize the home environment.

Foster Care and Adoption Services

When children are victims of abuse or neglect and DFCS caseworkers determine they cannot remain safely in their homes, DFCS petitions the juvenile court to bring children into foster care to ensure their safety. Foster care is intended to be a temporary solution for children as the agency works with their families to eliminate the safety issues that required DFCS intervention. The Division’s goal is to return children to their families as soon as possible, but only after the safety issues have been resolved. When parents consistently demonstrate that they are unable or unwilling to care for their children, the juvenile court may direct DFCS to find loving adoptive homes for them.

Kinship Care

When a child is not able to safely remain in the care of their biological parents, relatives can step in to provide the stability they need during a difficult time. These arrangements are commonly called kinship care. Children who remain connected to their family, friends, school, extracurricular activities and community through these kinship care arrangements experience less trauma than children placed in traditional foster care arrangements.

MEET THE STRINGER FAMILY

Julie and Blake Stringer are the parents of one 10-year-old son named Shawn. And they are both nurturing and supportive foster parents who have not skipped a beat since they joined the Cherokee County DFCS family in 2016! They have said “yes” to 27 or more placements and do not hesitate to go beyond the call of duty for every child in their care. They have fostered high-risk teens and are open to the idea of adoption, if the opportunity presents itself. The Stringers work with birth parents whenever possible and with a nonjudgmental attitude. They recently helped reunite a 12-year-old boy with his mother, whom he had not lived with in many years. They assisted the mother in setting up her home and even provided her with some much-needed furniture. “Being partnership parents means fostering the entire family unit, not just the children; we are teaching and coaching the parents just as much as we are their kids,” said Julie. “Long term, we want to break this cycle, so the children that come into our home with a trash bag of clothes in tow do not grow up and have their own children taken into care. Short term, we want to help the parents grow past this circumstance, provide every tool, and teach every skill we can so that we hopefully will not ever have their children in care a second time around.”

DFCS bolsters children on their path to adulthood through a variety of programs that support their education, their readiness for the job market and their social well-being. The Georgia Resilient, Youth-Centered, Stable and Empowered (GA-RYSE) John H. Chafee Independent Living Program seeks to bridge the gap between adolescence and adulthood and provide youth who are aging out of foster care with the social, educational, medical and financial foundation they need to live independently as adults.

In partnership with the University of Georgia and the Multi-Agency Alliance for Children, the Division hosted four roadshows during calendar year 2020, which included Youth Town Hall Meetings. These meetings provided an opportunity for DFCS leadership to hear from youth in care and their adult supporters. The road shows occurred in the following DFCS regions: Region 12 (Savannah area), Region 1 (Dalton area), Region 14 (metro Atlanta area) and Region 8 (Columbus area).

DFCS implemented strategies that reduced the child foster care population (<18 years old) by more than 8.95 percent, decreasing from 11,919 to 10,852, and that resulted in 1,067 finalized adoptions (as of June 30, 2021).

In 2019, Yvonne Walton, without hesitation, decided to serve as a relative placement for her grandson, Tyler. At 67, she never imagined that she’d be a full-time parent later in life, but she says she wouldn’t have it any other way.

As a former educator, Walton felt compelled to do all she could for her grandson to have a bright future despite the trauma he experienced. Walton’s first significant change was to relocate so that Tyler could enroll in a better school district. After settling into their new routine of school drop-off and pick-up, medical appointments and all that comes with caring for a child, the COVID-19 pandemic struck, Walton relied on her former experience and provided Tyler with structured daily activities to help improve his reading and comprehension skills while he was not able to attend school in person. Her sole focus as a grandmother was to see Tyler thrive and addressing his educational needs was only the beginning.

Today, Tyler is thriving and is actively involved in church, swimming, basketball and fishing. Tyler will undoubtedly grow into a young man with many talents, but most importantly, he will grow up in a loving and nurturing home.

GA-RYSE Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

The federal John H. Chafee Foster Care Independence Program (also known as GA-RYSE) offers assistance to youth and young adults ages 14–21 who are currently within the foster care system and those who have experienced foster care. Through federal Chaffee funding received by Georgia, our state of Georgia John H. Chafee Independent Living Program assists youth and young adults in a wide variety of areas designed to support a successful transition to adulthood. Activities and programs include education support assistance, extracurricular activities, financial literacy, housing needs support (costs to maintain) and connections to a Regional State Independent Living Specialist.

The Educational and Training Vouchers Program provides tuition assistance and a stipend to support young people in meeting their education and training needs as they transition out of foster care. This program makes available vouchers of up to $5,000 per year per youth for post-secondary education and training for eligible youth.

During FFY 2021, support continued for youth in foster care who were impacted by COVID-19. Young people who were in college continued to receive additional stipend support each month, as well as tuition support. In Dec. 2019, the Consolidated Appropriations Act was approved, and Georgia was awarded over $10 million in federal John H. Chafee funding for youth in care and over $1.4 million in ETV funding. This funding was made available for young people to apply in Aug. 2021.
The Cultivating the Rising Experienced Worker (CREW) program, formerly known as the Georgia TeenWork Internship Program, has provided valuable work readiness training and youth employment experiences for older youth in care for more than 13 years.

The CREW program serves as the youth employment hub within DFCS. The program provides a youth-friendly environment where participants can engage in a series of employment preparation services such as workshops, trainings, resource connections, hands-on work experiences and more.

Afterschool Care Program Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

During the pandemic, the afterschool programs throughout the state have embraced creative methods to continuously provide services to students in their communities.

Many afterschool partners followed the lead of the local education agency in determining whether to host in-person or virtual out-of-school time activities.

Those funded partners that elected to provide in-person services have consistently followed CDC and local public health guidelines, and have made provisions to update their sanitation practices and reduced the number of participants they host to facilitate social distancing.
During SFY 21, the Division made great strides toward implementing the provisions of the Family First Prevention Services Act (known as Family First). Family First will allow the state to access additional federal funds to support evidence-based services for children at risk of entering foster care and their families.

Agency leadership engaged in visioning and planning exercises to create a theory of change and to identify the intended outcomes for clients, including greater well-being and healing throughout the child welfare continuum; more services provided in community-based settings; decreased use of foster care; and strengthened communities.

The agency will submit its Title IV-E Prevention plan in the fall of 2021. This plan outlines how the state will implement changes necessary to support the provision of evidence-based services. To develop this plan, many stakeholders, including direct service staff across the state, other child and family serving state agencies, contracted service providers, community-based organizations, foster parents, kinship caregivers and parents and youth who have received services from DFCS have participated in a number of workgroups and focus groups to provide invaluable feedback on decisions. When the plan is submitted, the Division will begin a phased implementation of services, initially offering a smaller number of services in select regions with plans to scale to needed capacity statewide over time.
